With the support of eVidyaloka's partners - Nestle India and VidyaDaanak, International Yoga Day 2017 was celebrated on a large scale with the students of Chhindwara and Hoopla. A Yoga session was organized in the schools, and the children were quite thrilled to participate.

After the sessions, two of the students - Rameshwar and Devendra - came out as a relay to spread awareness about yoga and its many benefits for a holistic living. The Kamakara Centers led by example and gave the students a real experience of 'Yoga'.

Shankerith Shett, a Volunteer Teacher for two of the Karnataka schools named Huli from Dall, and made the effort to meet the children that he was in the Digital Classroom twice a week. The children in Mugal and Upadanapradak schools were pleasantly surprised and excited to meet their teacher in person. Many of the students made greeting cards for him and had a wonderful face-to-face session with him. Shett, he also distributed chocolates among the children.

A parents-teacher meeting was organized in the West Bengal center, for teachers to interact with the parents and the Team 1 assessments and took feedback about the classes. As the classes started in Jabalpur only the February, the parents were also curious about the Digital Classroom and the functions. The parents also wanted to know about what was being taught and requested more classes in other subjects. It was a matter of pride for the teachers to know that the students have been enjoying the classes and learning with much excitement.
